Natural Healing Program

For ADD/ADHD/AUTISM
Or Spectrum related disorders

"As a mother of a recovered autistic son, I explored many opportunities and interventions to heal my son in the last 11 years. I discovered in the first 2 years of his diagnosis in 1999, that traditional allopathic medicine was not my answer.

Years later I desperately sought for deeper answers to my quest. In order for a complete healing to begin, I needed to address not only the physical plane but on the emotional, mental and spiritual planes as well.

My son is now free of autism and I want to share with you how I did."

Julie Snoeberger found that the Nutritional diet piece was a critical part of her son gut healing but she also had to learn that self-healing was a critical factor in his recovery.

This is how quantum energy works — the mother and father are highly connected to the child's energetic field and when one is being worked on it flows to the others. This is why it so crucial for the parents to get worked on first.

Our children coming in today are highly evolved and very gifted, especially the diagnosed ones with the labels of spectrum disorders.

There are many ways to completely heal our children without the use of harmful prescription medications and removing these harsh labels that affect them emotionally.

It is possible to get your child back to the way God intended them to be!

We have teamed up together!

To join our experience and knowledge to assist the parents in this epidemic of autism and related disorders.

Julie Snoeberger & Consuelo Cassotti have developed this program to be enjoyable as well as informative.

Here the topics we will cover and experience for the parents and balancing session for the children!
